

Above Jodie McGregor and Stu White with Remi and Carter. Jason Miller's sculpture on the wall, 3 Snakes, is one of the couple's favourite pieces.

Right Craig Waddell's landscape, Beneath The Southern Sky, fills the functional dining area with colour.

Styling and interview
Jacqui Triggs
Photography Michael Wee

Floral notes

The changing seasons and fresh flowers provide inspiration for this inner-west home.

Who lives here? Jodie McGregor and Stu White, owners of Jodie McGregor Flowers, with their three children, Pirra, 5, Remi, 2, and Carter, 8 months.

Describe your home's style. "The house [in Camperdown in Sydney's inner-west] is best described as contemporary and we use art and flowers to provide the colour and life for our home."

What were your priorities? "Buying art and furnishings that we love. We also keep in mind that we have three kids so things need to work for them, too."

What do you like about living here? "We love the parks and pubs and also that all parts of Sydney are easily accessible. We enjoy opening up the rear of our house and having barbecues and swinging the kids in a hammock we picked up in Mexico."

Which is your favourite piece? "We can't decide between the 3 Snakes sculpture by Jason Miller, the landscape [painting] by Craig Waddell and a series of photos another artist friend gave us for each of our kids."

Do you have any favourite haunts? "Prints Charming is great for their original fabrics. A Turkish Bazaar is amazing and we went a little mad at Planet when we renovated. Chee Soon & Fitzgerald have a great eye for one-off pieces and you can always find a gift there at any price."

Where do you find inspiration? "It comes to us through the changing seasons and different flowers. Our architect friend, Vanessa Wegner, also inspires us with her passion and vision for creating amazing spaces."

Is there anything you would do differently? "We'd spend more time on the garden but time always seems to get the better of us."

Do you have your eye on anything? "We'd love the kids to have a trampoline. In the short term, it's peony roses."

What has worked best? "Using an architect who was passionate about the job. We benefit from this every day."

Objects

Spring posy, $80, from Jodie McGregor Flowers, (02) 9958 8666, www.jodie.com.au. Lost In The Woods tea towel by Third Drawer Down, $35, from Chee Soon & Fitzgerald, (02) 9360 1031, www.cheesoonfitzgerald.com.

Loop vases, $30 (medium), $20 (small), from Country Road, 1800 801 911, www.countryroad.com.au. Jasper Morrison Air-Chair, $149, from ECC Lighting and Living, (02) 9380 7922.

Dibbern milk jug, $62, and cup and saucer, $50, from Chee Soon & Fitzgerald. Hip Hop large two-drawer TV platform, $699, from Freedom Furniture, 1300 135 588.

Crimson Passage (oil on canvas) by Craig Waddell, $10,500, 0412 566 821, www.craigwaddell.com.